
LABRADORITE

Antolini Precioustone

Labradorite is the Stone of Transformation. This precioustone in various shades of blue will mesmerize you the moment you set eyes on it. A bounty of blues, greens, fiery golds, and smoky schemes can be found shimmering on the surface of Labradorite.

As a gleaming gem for Feng Shui, Labradorite can bring all that sweet flowing water energy into your home. Placing it in the home invites peace and serenity and creative freedom to the place. It's an excellent to put in your workshop or studio or writers' room if you are wanting a divine burst of inspiration. Also work in any space where you need to be at your clearest in communication.

This material is for those looking for a bold statement piece and where you need to think and deliver your own truth and clarity, therefore it also works in an office space.
